The Battle of Tawhid in Kabul

The sound of an explosion was heard near the entrance to Kabul's airport, ruining the delusions of the peace-dreamers, and drawing the path to a new stage of jihad on the prophetic method. Meanwhile, the American forces started talking again about their statistics of human losses after the blessed attack that mixed the bodies of their soldiers with their spies and protectors, the murtaddin of the Taliban, in a historical moment that summarized the scene in great detail. They had all united in the war against the Islamic State, so they shared the same fate and their bodies and blood mixed together as if they are the same.

Only hours after the strong hit, the American taghut came out screaming, shouting, and threatening the soldiers of the Islamic State with vengeance, saying that "he is not done with them yet", ruining with his statement the claims of his idiot predecessor, Trump, who said he finished the Islamic State in east Afghanistan. Here it is today blowing them up in the heart of Kabul, and in one of the most protected areas. So who did you win against yesterday? And who are you fighting today?!

This blessed attack was the "biggest human loss" the American forces suffered in a decade, and made them lower their flags in mourning, which had not been done in years, even when Taliban's militia announced the killing of dozens of American soldiers over a year ago, in a blatant campaign of lies, where only the followers of al-Qaeda believed them.

The American taghut came out crying on the television screens and cursing his luck in a shaky speech that reflects the size of the security breach America suffered, that the most they could do was to "warn from a possible attack", not prevent it or even minimize the losses! It was a two-fold loss ,where America lost both its soldiers and prestige that was broken by Abd ar-Rahman with the shovel of tawhid.

The impact on America and the world caused by the attack, and the stuttering speech by the American taghut, and the failed air strike, are all evidence to the great deal of trouble and embarrassment America has suffered. Also, the speed in which their taghut announced its targeting a "leader" in Khurasan Wilayah, without even mentioning his name,is a foolery that even his idiot predecessor, Trump, did not commit!

America blustered that it is conducting the "biggest aerial evacuation in their history" to evacuate thousands of their citizens and spies, before the explosion turned their pride to shame and funerals.

They were so confused, that they started talking about Khurasan Wilayah as if it only just started! This is only to hide their false claims before that they had finished it. So where are those who claimed Khurasan Wilayah was eliminated ? They all left and failed - Trump, then the Afghan taghut that America abandoned - and now the taghut Biden is starting a new phase of the war against the Islamic State, and this phase will end just like the phases of those before him! They fall and leave and change, while Allah glory be to Him - with His grace - keeps the Islamic State as a thorn in their throats, a burning fire for the kuffar and a light for the Muslims. They leave and fall and the Islamic State remains moving forward, paving the road for Muslims to worship Allah and follow His rules, and it sends its determined soldiers to embrace death with hoping hearts, so that Muslims would live prostrating to Allah alone. It gives lives and souls for Islam with great patience and greater faith in Allah's promise. This is the battle of tawhid.

It is the State of Islam, which is targeted by the kuffar of the earth everywhere to prevent its da'wah and stop its jihad. But no, no, no. Who kept it despite all of this?! Who protected it? Who supported it? Who recruited its soldiers? It is Allah, glory be to Him, which for him it despised and fought against all the tawaghit of the earth, and supported all the Muslims. He is Allah, whose soldiers do not care - for His sake - where they will wake up, in a castle or in a cell, in the desert or in a cave, accompanied by the voices of horses or the cries of night.

Along with the tawaghit of Arabs and non-Arabs, the positions of the murtadd parties were also shook by the attack, but the strangest was the position of the followers of al-Qaeda who became utterly lost. They either dove into the "conspiracy theory" argument, just like the movements of the murtadd Ikhwan, or condemned killing the "close enemy" and the head of kufr - that they pestered us with combating it- instead of the "far enemy"! This, only to reveal that there is no closer enemy to them but the Islamic State!

Perhaps this attack will be blessed enough by Allah that some sleeping hearts of those who were led by the Taliban and al-Qaeda to the tunnel of distractions, will wake up and repent to join the Muslim community, and announce the continuity of jihad against all sects of kufr, specially America, which they now, according to the Doha Agreement, must protect and fight for, under the terms of "counter terrorism"!

In its dimensions, the attack showed the difference between the path of the believers and the path of the mushrikin, and it confirmed again the everlasting nature of jihad and its continuity no matter how many made pilgrimage to Doha! And no matter how many roamed its hotels! Jihad is the destiny of Allah, so let them prevent His destiny if they can.

From the lessons of the blessed attack, is that the istishhadi (may Allah accept him) was a prisoner in the jails of Khurasan's taghut before Allah eased for him to get out, and the lion then left his den, rushing to sign his name on the list of the istishhadiyyin, just like al-Bara' bin Malik. It is he and his brothers who the murtadd of al-Qaeda and the Taliban lied about and described them on the day of 'Usrah that America transported them on its airplanes! So Allah distinguished the truth from falsehood, and this lion leapt on the gathering of the Americans, blowing them and himself up, scattering their shreds everywhere, at a time when the fighters of Taliban were busy securing the citizens of the crusaders and their spies, and delivering them to where the American airplanes were landing, while everything was streaming live. And what is hidden is dirtier! Just like the whole world saw the leaders of the Taliban being transported by the airplanes of the tawaghit of the East and West! So Allah cleared the names of his followers and showed the truth of the murtaddin. So contemplate.

While the mujahidin continue their jihad and preparation, the murtaddin are celebrating with "independence"! From what did they become independent? Today, they are related and connected to America and the tawaghit of the world more than ever, and for the Taliban, to remain in power is related directly to its behavior in "countering terrorism" and fulfilling the demands of America and coordinating with the tawaghit of Europe.

The military exit of America from Afghanistan only means a new stage of the war against Islam using new agents led by a new Karzai! It is a stage where the battle will heat up between the soldiers of the Khilafah and the soldiers of nationalism! Hence, it is no wonder it is the battle of tawhid.
